GOODWOOD GETS ECCENTRIC: THE DIABLO REIMAGINED TAKES THE HILL

Eccentrica Confirms Participation in Goodwood Festival of Speed 2025 and Tackles the Iconic Hillclimb for the First Time

[San Marino, June 15, 2025] The legendary hill climb at Goodwood is about to feel the pulse of reimagined automotive heritage. Eccentrica, the San Marino-based restomod brand behind the striking reinterpretation of the iconic Diablo-based platform, will make its official debut at the Goodwood Festival of Speed 2025, showcasing its celebrated Eccentrica V12 at one of the world's most prestigious automotive events.

The car that turned heads at The Quail is now poised to charge up the Goodwood hill, propelled by the unmistakable sound and spirit of a naturally aspirated V12. This will mark the first time the Eccentrica V12 takes on the legendary Hillclimb, demonstrating its dynamic capabilities in front of a global audience of enthusiasts, collectors, and motorsport aficionados.

The Spirit of the '90s, Reinvented for Today

Founded by entrepreneur and lifelong Lamborghini enthusiast Emanuel Colombini, Eccentrica was born out of the desire to bring the essence of the 1990s supercar era into the present. The result is the Eccentrica V12, a thoroughly re-engineered machine that preserves the DNA of the original Diablo-based platform while integrating cutting-edge technology and artisanal craftsmanship. Retaining the legendary 5.7-liter naturally aspirated V12, the engine has been upgraded to 550 horsepower thanks to new camshafts, electronic throttle bodies, and a fully recalibrated ECU. A custom-built six-speed manual gearbox with shorter ratios—and an electric reverse gear—ensures a visceral, analog connection to the road.

The chassis has been structurally enhanced using composite materials for added rigidity, paired with double wishbone suspension and semi-active dampers for adjustable, high-performance handling. Brakes developed with Brembo and lightweight forged wheels round out a setup designed for both thrilling drives and refined control.

Inside, the cabin balances analog soul with contemporary luxury. A digital instrument cluster, a custom infotainment system, and a bespoke Marantz audio system are housed within a cockpit wrapped in Alcantara, premium leather, and billet aluminum—each detail tailored to the individual client.

With production limited to just 19 fully bespoke vehicles, each Eccentrica V12 is a deeply personal commission—configured to reflect the character and passion of its owner.

From San Marino to the Hill at Goodwood

“Goodwood is more than just an event—it’s a celebration of performance, history, and passion. It’s exactly where Eccentrica belongs,” said Emanuel Colombini, Founder of Eccentrica. “Taking on the Hillclimb for the first time marks a key moment in our journey—and we’re proud to showcase what this car is truly capable of.”
